The Guide

A weekly newsletter for the school community

Volume 5, Issue 29

April 27, 2017

From the Principal's Desk

Mrs. Kim Vangel

Dear St. Raphael School Families,

It's a big week at St. Raphael for the faith formation of our students...Congratulations to our 7th Graders who received the Sacrament of Confirmation on Wednesday evening, April 26th! May they continue to be blessed and grow in their faith through the workings of the Holy Spirit in their lives. And Congratulations to our 2nd Graders who are receiving the Sacrament of First Holy Eucharist on Sunday, April 30th! May God wrap them in His arms as they receive the Eucharist for the first time, and may their joy in their Catholic faith stay alive in their hearts forever. We are so blessed to be able to celebrate these happy occasions together as a school and parish family.

Mrs. Julie Hayes, the new principal of St. Raphael School, is beginning her transition here; she met with the SRA Faculty on Monday, and spent an afternoon with me discussing transition details. Mrs. Hayes and I will continue to work closely together over the next two months to ensure that she feels comfortable with all the workings of our school when she begins full-time in July. I will keep you posted about dates that Mrs. Hayes will make available to meet with parents prior to the start of next school year. I know that you will welcome her with open arms, minds, and hearts!

Teachers are working hard to wrap up the school year, ensuring that students have had ample opportunities to learn everything in their grade level curriculum. This is also the time of year when teachers reflect back on the school year and start making plans for the next school cycle. Did you know that we revise the entire school curriculum every single year? It's critical to keep our curriculum current and meaningful, so teachers keep notes and do research all year long as they are teaching in order to make improvements to the curriculum for the following year. In this way, teachers are always evaluating their own instructional methods, the value of each learning goal in the curriculum, and the best methods and times for presentation of material in their classes.

Teachers will be providing parents with a new curriculum document next school year that we hope will be very helpful to our families. Rather than printing the formal curriculum for each subject area in each grade level, parents will receive a "Curriculum Year-At-A-Glance" document at Curriculum Night in September. This Year-At-A-Glance will give you a month by month picture of what is happening in each of your child's classes; you will see major themes being covered, big projects, important events and field trips, etc. all organized by months in the school year. Our hope is that this Curriculum Year-At-a Glance will help you to understand the flow of the school year for each class and to gain an appreciation for what your children will learn and be expected to do throughout the school year.

These last weeks of the school year are busy for everyone, but please help us try to keep kids focused on learning as much as possible. Be patient with them - it's really hard to think about school when the weather is so beautiful and there are so many other fun things they could be doing!

We appreciate your prayers and support as always.

Peace,
Kim Vangel
Principal

What is Dyslexia?

I recently attended an In-service on the topic of Dyslexia. The presenters were from the Churchill Center and School. Dyslexia is a brain-based difference associated with specific challenges that affect reading, spelling, and other school skills. Here is a short list of resources for parents and teachers. New Dyslexia legislation is being implemented in the public schools beginning in 2018. DESE has all the information on their web site. This will also benefit our students if they are evaluated and diagnosed by the St. Louis Public Schools.

Mrs. Kim Westrich: Art

Second Grade students are learning about self-portraits. After looking at examples of famous artists' self-portraits, they discussed what they thought the artist's personality was like and gave reasons to support their answer from the self-portrait. Students then began creating their own self-portrait in the media of their choosing.

Mrs. Caroline: Music

First Graders are in full dance rehearsal mode as they prepare their performance to Aaron Copland's Rodeo: Hoe Down. The dancers are representing the visual artwork of Georgia O'Keefe. There are three groups of dancers: The Flowers, The Bones, and The Skulls. The students are becoming more astute in listening for the changes and patterns in the music. It has been a great cooperative effort from the First Grade dancers. Be sure to see their performance (with Kindergarteners - Seventh Graders) on Friday, May 5th at 7:00 p.m. The students' artwork will be on display in the gym...a feast for the senses!

Mrs. Peggy Martin: Physical Education & Art Grades Pk-3

It is great to have the good weather and see the students enjoying PE outside. This week we will celebrate the Blues winning the first round of playoffs by practicing our hockey skills. We will also be reviewing soccer.

Mr. John Bruno: Physical Education—Grades 3-8

This week students have been participating in two fitness activities that they performed back in the fall, flipping tires and a running activity that requires them to run with liter bottles. Both of these activities are a lower and upper body workout.

The Third Grade will be introduced to the liter bottles activities which I hope they will find both challenging and rewarding. Rewarding because they will work their bodies to get stronger.

As always I continue to look forward to working with the students at St. Raphael.

Miss Molly Preschool Room A

Welcome back and I hope everyone had a beautiful Easter break. In Preschool A we are working on the end of the year program. The little ones are working hard and having fun. We are also working on an Alphabet Book that they can bring home at the end of the year. Thank you and have a great week. God Bless, Molly Indelicato

Miss Chris Preschool Room B

The Bears have been working on the letter W this week with our Whale theme. We have had a blast learning all about these wonderful creatures in our stories and songs that we have listened to this week. We even learned about the story of Jonah and the Whale during our Jesus Club.

Kindergarten News: Miss Abby Morris & Mrs. Doyle

Hello SRA Community,

Kindergarten is busy learning about different habitats on our planet. We continue to celebrate Easter and write about different topics in our journals. We are keeping the Seventh Graders in our prayers as their Confirmation is approaching. We are also praying for the Second Grade class as they prepare for their First Communion.

Have a nice week.

First Grade News: Mrs. Louise Balicki-Smith

We were very excited to prepare and lead Mass for the school on Thursday. A lot of hard work went into practicing the readings. This week First Grade has been learning about government and how laws are made. In Math, we have begun our geometry unit and are seeking shapes in our environment. In ELA we have been learning about sequence of events in different read alouds. We are focusing on identifying key details in the story and using this sequencing to build our retelling.

Second Grade News: Miss Stephanie Amsler

First Communion is this Sunday, April 30th at 10:00am Mass. Please join us in celebrating this special day!

We have been practicing for two weeks now and the day is almost here. Tomorrow Fr. Bob is going to practice with us and have us taste the bread and wine. We are very excited.

St. Raphael, pray for us!

Third Grade News: Ms. Susan Polson

Third Grade, also known by their Class Nickname: Epic Smarties, is ready for their last month of Third Grade, May. In Math we have been studying fractions and decimals. Sparkle is a fun game to play using our spelling words. In Reading we have finished a play by Rudyard Kipling called How the Camel got his Hump. We learned about Bactrian and Dromedary camels and solar and lunar eclipses. Our posters of Moon Phases are completed, labeled and hanging proudly in the hallway.

Miss Patti Woods: Social Studies, Science, English (4-5)

In Fourth Grade English, we are continuing our work on Capitalization and Punctuation. We will be wrapping up this unit and taking the end of unit test early next week. In Science, we have revisited the proper use of a triple beam balance, and have practiced finding objects that are equal to a given mass. In Social Studies, hard work has been going into our reenactment of the Dred Scott Trial. We are looking forward to our field trip to the Old Courthouse next week.

In Fifth Grade English, our studies continue to be on the proper use of adverbs. In Science, we have turned our attention to the research of weather instruments. We are finding what meteorologists use to help predict the weather. In Social Studies, we are going to be looking at population distribution and migrations in the United States. We will use this information to discuss future trends in population for the United States.

Miss Amanda Imo: Reading, Math (4-5)

Fifth Grade: The Fifth Graders started our discussions in Family Life this week. We have talked about families and what makes each of our families unique. In Math, the students are working on measuring length using both the customary and metric system. They also are working on converting measurements. The students are excited to start their last Book Club book of the year. The Fifth Graders are getting so anxious for their field trip to JA BizTown. This week they focused on interviewing and job applications. They each had an interview with Mrs. Vangel to help determine which job they received. They all looked professional and did a great job!

Fourth Grade: The Fourth Graders have moved on to Geometry. They have been excited to use protractors and learn how to draw and measure angles. They have also learned about the types of angles and lines. In Reading, the students read a story about a young girl who is trying to convince her parents to let her keep a stray dog. We talked about characterization and how different actions a character does helps us learn a lot about him or her. The students also were able to write an ad about the dog just like characters in the story did.

Mrs. Christy Connor: Social Studies & Religion (6-7-8)

English: Grades Six, Seven, and Eight completed the unit about pronouns this week. They are beginning the unit on prepositions and prepositional phrases.

Social Studies:

Grade Six students completed the unit about ancient Rome. They learned about the Patricians and the Plebeians as well as the extent of the Roman Empire. The next unit involves the study of the continent of Asia, especially the countries of China, Japan, and India.

Grade Seven students are working on the standard concerning westward expansion. They will be learning about Manifest Destiny and the Mexican American War.

Grade Eight students completed the chapter about the fall of the Soviet Union. They are beginning a unit about more modern global concerns including poverty and environmental issues.

Mrs. Laura Berns: Science (6-7-8) Standard Math (6-7-8)

Miss Ashley Schaaf: Science (6-7-8) Challenge Math (6&7) Algebra 8

Math:

In Sixth Grade Standard Math, we are creating and interpreting different graphs and tables.

In Sixth Grade Challenge Math, we are exploring different forms of representing data. We are studying line graphs, and getting into samples and populations.

In Seventh Grade Standard Math, we are identifying parts of a circle and calculating area and circumference.

In Seventh Grade Challenge Math, we are working with perimeter and area of circles, and moving into volume of polygons.

In Eighth Grade Standard Math, we are naming angle relationships and identifying their measure.

In Eighth Grade Challenge Math, we are continuing with quadratic equations - both graphing and solving.
